

Chicago Man Denies Bribe In Army Cap Sale

WASHINGTON (P)—Chicago hat maker Harry Lev, who swears he never bribed government procurement officers, was called back today for more questioning by a Senate subcommittee after signing a $5,089.38 "restitution" check as evidence of good faith.

Subcommittee aides said Lev would be asked more about alleged bribes and about his relations with Mrs. Mella Hort, a striking former government worker who supervised some of his contract dealings with the armed services. The 52-year-old Lev, terming these relations "social," Tuesday begged the investigators not to press him further on that point.

Blackmail Charged

Specifically, the aides said Lev would be questioned about prior hearsay testimony by Leon M. Levy, a New York business rival of Lev, that Mrs. Hort tried to blackmail Lev for $15,000 to stay silent about some allegedly unusual and profitable aspects of Lev's government contracts. Mrs. Hort has denied the blackmail allegations under oath.

Lev signed the check — to show "I'm no chiseler"—after he was confronted with testimony that he got a 1951 government contract to make 169,646 garrison caps at 21 cents apiece—3 cents more than his final bid.

Lev said that disclosure "really strikes me like a ton on the head." He said he thought government

Fresh GM Offer Expected Before Sunday Deadline

DETROIT (P)—General Motors Corp. today was believed readying a fresh offer for the CIO United Auto Workers aimed at reaching a contract settlement before a new Sunday midnight strike deadline.

Nobody at GM would say so but UAW officials said they fully anticipated a new offer.

The union leaders said they never would have granted a five-day contract extension from midnight Tuesday to midnight Sunday unless they felt GM was ready to do business along the lines of the recent Ford Motor Co. agreement including a guaranteed wage plan. GM requested the extension.

More Wildcat Strikes

With the GM bargaining talks scheduled to resume at midday, both GM and Ford were plagued with a series of scattered wildcat strikes in plants across the nation.

Most serious was the walkout of tool and die workers, maintenance crews and skilled craftsmen in Ford's giant Rouge plant at nearby Dearborn, said to be the single largest production facility in the world.

The tool and die workers, defying local union leaders who sought to persuade them to accept the Ford settlement terms, complained the Ford contract provided too little for them in wage increases. They pooh-poohed wage hikes of 8 to 18 cents an hour, plus additional annual "improvement" raises of 6 cents an hour. They said they wanted a 30-cent raise.

KREMLIN'S GOAL — Goal of current Soviet diplomacy is a belt of neutral nations from the Baltic Sea to the Adriatic that would separate European members of NATO from the Soviet Union and its satellites. At present only Austria and Switzerland are neutral in Central Europe. Playing on all Germans' deep desire for unification, Moscow holds out neutrality as bait for West Germany. So far, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has rejected the bait. Southern link in the neutral belt would be Yugoslavia. Soviet top brass went hat-in-hand to President Tito, hoping to sell him on the idea. So far, Tito maintains his "firm independence." Early this year Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko went to Stockholm with the reported message that the Soviets would not object to a Scandinavian union (Sweden, Finland, Norway, Denmark) if the union would pledge strict neutrality.

Organized Labor May Be Losing Hold On Worker

WASHINGTON (P)—Are big labor unions heading for the day when, by their very success in winning benefits for their members, they no longer can get the support of those members in a showdown with a company or industry?

This much can be taken as a truism:

The bigger the stake a worker has in the company which employs him, the bigger his reason for not wanting it to suffer loss or ruin, as it might from a strike.

By a strike is meant such things as a pension, with the size of it based on years of service and earnings; company stock which a worker may own; the medical and hospital bills which a company pays; and so on.

Stock Offer Is Factor

The CIO United Auto Workers has just negotiated an impressive contract with the Ford Motor Co. For a time the company offered to let its employees buy Ford stock. This offer did not become part of the contract. The company may make the offer again.

In time UAW may obtain a contract — covering stock ownership and better pensions, guaranteed wages and pay scales—which may profoundly affect workers' attitude toward the company and make them more conservative.

Suppose then the UAW made demands for some new benefits which, while nice to have, were far less than those already obtained. Would the workers strike to win them, taking a chance on losing everything, just to back the union?

Allegiance Divided

Unions may face that problem some day. An old question arises: Can any union be effective if it can't back up its demands?

Perhaps in time the role of unions may have to take a form not now discerned. For example: What happens when a company lets union members buy its stock? Is their allegiance then divided between company and union? Or do they, through the union, demand a voice in running the company to protect their investment?

In the future workers almost certainly will tend to be tied far more strongly to companies which guarantee them 52 weeks' pay a year, work or no work, and have good pension plans. Such workers will have abundant reason to stay with one company and in one town or city.

With an assured future, they can make their own long-range plans, such as in home buying and educating their children. It seems reasonable to believe that the more deeply workers' lives get tied into the success of a business the more conservative they will become.

Lawsuit Of C&H Will Go Ahead

HOUGHTON (P)—A Calumet & Hecla, Inc., official says the firm intends to proceed with its $1½ million dollar damage suit against the CIO United Steelworkers.

A. S. Kromer, general manager of the company's Calumet division, said Tuesday the firm will press for an early trial of the case.

Federal Judge W. Wallace Kent Monday denied the company an injunction against a strike at its Calumet division and an injunction to regulate picketing at its five copper mines and smelter.

Earlier, the court had denied a union motion to dismiss the company's damage suit. C & H charges the damages resulted when pickets prevented maintenance crews from operating at the mines and smelter.

Some 1,500 workers have been idled since the strike was called May 2 when negotiations broke down over a new contract.

Norad Does Damage Near Beaveron, Mich.

BEAVERON, Mich. (P)—A small tornado raced across farmlands southeast of this central Michigan community late Tuesday. It leveled a barn, unroofed a garage and granary, twisted a house off its foundations, knocked down power lines and uprooted trees. No one was injured.

Jet Transport To Span Atlantic In 6½ Hours

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (P)—The Douglas Aircraft Co. plans a jet transport designed to cross the United States in 4½ hours and span the Atlantic in 6½ hours.

The jet-powered DC8 will be in the air by December 1957. Donald W. Douglas, president of the company, said Tuesday. He said deliveries to airlines should begin in 1959.

Douglas termed it America's first jet transport designed for passenger service. He said it would carry 80 to 125 passengers at top speeds in excess of 550 miles per hour.

The DC8 will be nearly 200 miles an hour faster than the propeller-driven DC7 Seven Seas model.

Unionists Urge Eden To Accept Strike Solution

LONDON, (P)—Britain's powerful Trades Union Congress and leading Conservative newspapers pressed Prime Minister Eden today to accept the congress' plan ending Britain's 11-day-old rail strike.

The plan was approved Tuesday by the striking Associated Society of Engineers and Firemen. It calls for immediate negotiations without a return to work. Eden said Sunday the government, which operates the nationalized railways, would not meet with the men until they returned.

Liners Stranded

There were peace moves too, in one of the other two big walkouts now plaguing the nation—a strike of 20,000 dock workers tying up some 200 freighters in seven seaports. Leaders of the striking stevedores' union agreed to submit their jurisdictional dispute with other union to a Trade Union Congress (TUC) committee.

But no settlement was sighted in the third dispute, a wildcat walkout by about 800 stewards on transatlantic liners. It has stranded some 3,300 passengers in Liverpool and Southampton.

TUC leaders were hopeful that Eden would accept their plan for negotiations between the 67,000 striking railwaymen and the British Transport Commission, which runs the state-owned lines.

Factories Run Short

The union is demanding a raise of $1.12 a week over the present base pay of $27.30 to restore its members' traditional wage differentials over less skilled workers. The differentials were narrowed in an industrywide pay boost last January.

British railways have been operating a skeleton service with engine crews made up of NUR members. Industry sources have predicted widespread factory unemployment because of raw material shortages if the strike continues through this week.

Housing Bill Given Boost By Democrats

WASHINGTON (P)—A Democratic move toward construction of public housing at a rate almost four times as great as that President Eisenhower recommended topped its first big hurdle Tuesday.

As part of an omnibus bill to continue federal housing programs for another year, the Senate voted to authorize 135,000 low-rent public housing units in each of the next four years. Eisenhower had asked authority for 35,000 units for each of the next two years. That is the number authorized this year.

Financed By Bonds

Democrats had raised the figures in the Senate Banking Committee, and a move by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) to trim the program down to the size the President had asked lost 44-38, generally on party lines.

The bill also would permit the Public Housing Administration to carry over into the next fiscal year, starting July 1, some 20,000

Big Steel Producers Study Wage Demands

PITTSBURGH (P)—Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's second largest producer, sat down at the bargaining table today with the CIO United Steelworkers to listen to the union's demands for a "substantial wage increase."

Bethlehem, employer of 80,000 CIO-USW members, is the second big basic steel producer to receive the union's request for a pay boost. In another room at the same hotel, United States Steel Corp. began its second day of bargaining with the union on the same demands.

David J. McDonald, union president, headed the union's negotiating team at Bethlehem talks and said:

"I will move back and forth between the various negotiations until a settlement is reached."

Joseph M. Larkin, vice president of industrial relations for Bethlehem, is heading that firm's negotiators, he said:

"Our objective is to work out a settlement fair to all concerned."

Later today, the union presents its demands to Republic Steel Corp., the nation's third largest basic steel producer. Before the week is out the union also will spell out its demands to three other basic steel firms. The six employ two-thirds of the 600,000 union members.

The demands being made of them are the same as those McDonald presented yesterday in the opening of steel wage talks with U. S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest producer. Sessions with others of the "big six," who employ about two-thirds of the 600,000 basic steelworkers, are slated for Thursday and Friday.

McDonald hasn't announced the USW demands but observers say they amount to approximately 25 cents an hour more than present average earnings of $2.33 an hour. The negotiations are limited, under a reopening clause in a two-year contract signed last June, to wage rates only. That bars demands for a guaranteed annual wage.

The same observers predict that the final settlement with the robust steel industry will be for about 12½ cents more an hour.

The union will be free to strike June 30 if an agreement is not reached by then.

Lakes Longshoremen Delay Their Walkout

DETROIT (P)—Three AFL longshoremen's unions try again today to reach a settlement with the Great Lakes Dredgemen's Assn. in a contract dispute that could tie up almost all shipping on the lakes.

The three unions were scheduled to strike at 6 a. m. today. But Tuesday at a meeting with the U. S. Conciliation and Mediation service they agreed to another meeting today and moved back the strike deadline until tomorrow morning.

The unions involved are the Truck and Driftboat Employees and the Dredgemen's Protective Assn. Together, they have 500 to 600 members.

Five longshoremen's unions originally were involved in negotiations with the Great Lakes Dredgemen's Assn., which represents some 60 companies. Two—the Tugmen's protective Assn. and the Crane and Dredge Engineers—have accepted a package wage offer.

The companies have offered a package valued at 12½ cents an hour, including 9 cents in wages. Union demands have not been specified.

A spokesman for the mediation service said members of the three unions now average "well over" two dollars an hour. Members of some of the unions are salaried.

Ore Carrier Hit By Rocket Missile

DETROIT (P)—The ore carrier George R. Fink docked Tuesday with a six-inch hole drilled in its hatch cover by a rocket missile which hit the vessel while it was passing through an Air Force target area. The dummy missile buried itself harmlessly in the ship's iron ore cargo. An Air Force spokesman said the carrier missed warning devices established to keep ships out of the area.

The victims were Charles Weston, 40, father of two, and Norman Kosier, about 35, father of four, both of Cedarville in the Upper Peninsula.

The two men were working in the Cedarville quarry of the Michigan Limestone Division of U. S. Steel Corp. when Weston had difficulty with his electric drill and Kosier, an electrician, rewired a motor.

Wires were crossed and when Weston turned on the power from the drill cab, Kosier, standing outside, was electrocuted.

Weston saw Kosier collapse and was killed himself by the charge when he stepped outside the cab to investigate.

A third worker, Sy Hurban, of Cedarville, went to their aid but stopped when he "felt a tingling" in the ground and escaped injury.

Factory Claims Golf Ball Damage

LOS ANGELES (P)—A manufacturing company wants Superior Court to protect it from bombardment by golf balls.

The Frito Co. plant adjoins the Manchester golf course and driving range. There's a fence between the properties, but it isn't golfball proof, the company's petition said Tuesday.

The fence is in such a state of disrepair that balls pass right through, and, since July 1954, have shattered 13 window panes and a truck windshield, Frito attorneys said.

The firm's 180 employees are so leery of the danger, the suit asserts, that morale is drooping, hurting company business. For this the plant asks $15,000. It also asks the court for an injunction to end the alleged hazard.

Old Chancellor Does Not Relish Trip To Moscow

BONN, Germany (P)—West Germany's political leaders hurriedly consulted today on Russia's surprise proposal that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer visit Moscow to discuss "normalization of relations" between the Kremlin and the Bonn government.

The Soviet note, delivered Tuesday to the West German Embassy in Paris, was the major item under discussion at Adenauer's regular meeting with his Cabinet this morning.

Difficult To Refuse

The 79-year-old Chancellor, staunch exponent of his country's rearmament as an ally of the West, declined Tuesday night to comment on the Soviet invite. He was known to be personally reluctant to make such a trip because of his past policy of uncompromising anti-communism.

But political circles here acknowledged it would be difficult for Adenauer to refuse in the face of mounting pressure for acceptance from political allies and foes alike.

Both the opposition Socialists and the government — allied Refugee party urged the government to accept the Russian invitation. Neither said, however, whether they thought Adenauer himself should go to Moscow.

Socialists See Benefits

The Socialists said their deputies unanimously adopted a resolution stating that direct talks would be in the German interest. They called for German reunification to have first place on the Moscow agenda.

The Refugees, No. 3 member of the four-party government coalition, said they expected the government to accept the invitation after agreement with West Germany's NATO treaty partners. They termed the Moscow bid a success for the unity of the free world.

Adenauer again declined to say anything after the two-hour Cabinet meeting. One minister, who declined to be named, said the Cabinet agreed the Russian move needed "most careful study."

Minister without portfolio Franz Joseph Strauss, a Christian Democrat, told reporters the Cabinet took no decision. Strauss said no reply to Moscow could be expected before Adenauer's visit to the United States next week, but he described the tendency toward establishment of diplomatic relations between Bonn and Moscow as "positive."

Strauss added it was useless to speculate at the moment whether Adenauer himself would go to Moscow. He asserted there was no conjunction in the Moscow note between the invitation to Adenauer and the proposal to establish diplomatic relations.

EISENHOWER UNWORRIED

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower said today he has the utmost confidence that West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer will stand by the Western world in any dealings with Soviet Russia.

Eisenhower volunteered the remark at his news conference in taking note of Moscow's bid for establishment of diplomatic and trade relations with the newly sovereign Republic of Western Germany. The Kremlin Tuesday invited Adenauer to visit Moscow to discuss those matters.

The invitation, Eisenhower went on, seems to him to be a logical gesture on the part of Russia. He added the decision whether Adenauer accepts is one which must be made exclusively by West Germany.

The President said he has the utmost faith and confidence in Adenauer.

Eisenhower added he knows the German leader will stand by his Allies and friends.

At another point, Eisenhower referred to Adenauer as one of the world's great statesmen and said he trusts him.

Republicans Ousted

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (P)—Democrats fared well in two town elections Tuesday. They overturned Republican town rule in Lincoln by electing all five members of the Town Council, solidly Republican more than half a century.

Democrats carried the biennial town election in South Kingstown, for the second consecutive time. Until 1953, South Kingstown had always voted Republican.

Surfacing Job On Ludington St. To Begin Soon

The surfacing of a 40-foot center strip of Ludington Street with a leveling course of asphaltic concrete is scheduled to start next week, following the completion of repairs to the street base, according to Loren Jenkins, Escanaba city engineer.

Jenkins explained the necessity of repairing the base before the new surface is applied, noting that unless this work is done now it will result in an unsatisfactory surface. The base repair is to be completed within a few days and application of the asphaltic surface will start next week when all of the paving materials have arrived.

The base of Ludington Street is a concrete slab, four to five inches thick, poured back in 1903-04. Over this was applied the blacktop surface, which has been repaired and patched each year.

Materials Arrive
There are no expansion joints in the concrete base and in a number of places the concrete has ruptured or buckled, raising the street surface three or four inches in some areas. To correct this condition the bump is removed and the broken concrete base is dug out and new concrete is poured in to the crack.

A carload of asphalt is expected to arrive in Escanaba this week for the project, and the delivery of gravel to the city will be started soon, Jenkins said. The asphaltic concrete material will be mixed at the city asphalt plant on the north bay shore and trucked to Ludington Street.

Cost of the leveling course is estimated at $15,000 and will last for many years, eliminating the need of annual patching and repairs that has cost from $1,000 to $2,000 a year in maintenance. The leveling course will extend eastward on Ludington from Stephenson Ave.

Two Blocks Per Day
The work will be done by public works employees with city equipment and the rate of progress on the job is expected to be two blocks per day, Jenkins said. The blocks are to be closed to traffic as the paving progresses, both to speed the work and to reduce the possibility of accidents.

The leveling course of asphaltic concrete on Ludington is a material stronger than the asphaltic aggregate used to surface residential streets, Jenkins explained. This is needed to hold up under the heavier loads and greater traffic volume on the city's main business street.

Earlier this spring the city completed the blacktop paving of Danforth Road, and after Ludington Street is finished the city will pave 27 blocks of residential streets.

Parolee Killer Will Return To Michigan

Bruce Kins, 20, of Kokomo, Ind., self-confessed slayer of Ernest Mattonen, 65, of Watson, has waived extradition in Minot, N. D. and will be returned to Marquette County on a first degree murder charge, Michigan State Police have reported.

The body of Mattonen was found by Undersheriff Cully Johnson of Delta County Tuesday morning after Kins had walked into the home of Sheriff C. J. Westlake in Minot, N. D. and said that he had killed the Watson farmer on June 2.

Mattonen was shot twice with double zero buckshot fired from a 12-gauge shotgun. One ejected cartridge was found near the body and next to the shotgun. The other discharged cartridge was still in the gun.

Kins is reported to have told Sheriff Westlake that he killed Mattonen at approximately 5:30 in the afternoon of June 2, using the shotgun owned by Mattonen that Kins stole after breaking into the Mattonen shack, three-quarters of a mile west of the village of Watson in Marquette County.

Mrs. Joseph Doneau Claimed By Death

Mrs. Joseph L. Doneau, 45, a resident of Perkins for the past 18 years, died at 6:15 a. m. today at St. Francis Hospital where she had been a patient for the past two weeks. Her death was due to complications.

She was born Evelyn Agatha King on Aug. 8, 1909 at Rapid River where she was reared. She also resided at Gladstone before moving to Perkins 18 years ago. Mrs. Doneau was a Catholic by faith.

Survivors include her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Leo (Helen) Plimpton and Mrs. Clarence (Josephine) Evans, both of Perkins, and Mrs. Robert (Virginia) Van-Acker, Gladstone; two sons, Henry of Gladstone, Rte. 1 and Julius of Perkins; father, William King, Perkins; four brothers, Elsie of Gladstone, Everett of Rapid River, Edward of Deerton and Arthur of Rapid River, Rte. 1, and six grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Kelley Funeral Home where funeral arrangements are tentatively set for Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lund have left for Saginaw where Mr. Lund will be employed.

Classified Ads cost little but do a big job

All of the details of the crime will not be available until Kins is returned to Michigan. Police authorities here, however, theorize that Kins left the farm of Jerome DeBacker early in the morning of June 2 and went to Mattonen's shack.

Mattonen also had been employed on the DeBacker farm and the Delta County Sheriff Department has been informed that Mattonen and Kins had quarreled several days before the shooting. Mattonen slapped Kins in the face, it was reported, and Kins had threatened to get even.

Fired Two Shots
Mattonen apparently was not home in the morning of June 2 when Kins arrived at his shack. Kins broke into the shack, sheriff officers theorize, and stole Mattonen's gun. Police believe that Kins waited all day for Mattonen to return, got into an argument with Mattonen, and finally shot Mattonen in the head. He dragged the body into the swamp and fired a second shot into Mattonen's head, discarding the gun near Mattonen's body, the officers theorize.

Kins told Sheriff Westlake that he stole $47 from Mattonen and took the elderly man's car, a 1949 Plymouth coupe. He abandoned the car in St. Cloud, Minn., apparently in fear that the car would lead to his capture.

Kins said that he hitch-hiked to Minot, N. D. where he decided to surrender to Sheriff Westlake. The murder of Mattonen had been undetected until Kins reported the crime to the North Dakota officer.

The body of Mattonen was found in the swamp after a search of about a half hour by Undersheriff Cully Johnson and Sgt. Ed Goldsworthy of the Michigan State Police. They were assisted by brothers of the slain man.

Slowpoke Drivers Branded Menace

BOSTON (AP)—The general manager of the Automobile Legal Assn. says the slowpoke driver is no less a menace on the highways than the speeder or reckless driver.

Philip C. Thibodeau said in a statement Tuesday night:

"The driver who travels at a speed much slower than the normal flow of traffic, and who forces cars behind him into taking chances out of pure frustration in order to get by, is the real menace on the roads and should be dealt with as severely as the speeder or reckless driver."

He said he favors a minimum speed in all states.

Ford Agreement With Union On Security Supplement Historic

The Ford Motor Company's negotiations with the United Auto-Workers-CIO on a new contract embodying the union's plan for a Guaranteed Annual Wage(GAW) was watched with intense interest by all American business and labor where the implications of the issue were understood. The union proposed GAW a year ago to permit extended study of the program, but when Ford and UAW went to the bargaining table Ford made several other proposals before getting around to GAW. The union had committed itself so strongly that it appeared determined to get some of the principle of GAW into the contract or to strike.

Ford agreed to a form of GAW. It virtually assures that General Motors, also negotiating with UAW, will go along. It means that the other motor makers must do something of the same sort or close, and it means that a new principle of security had been established in the bargaining relationship between business and labor. The end result of this change is not visible, but there has been established in one of the nation's most important and most highly paid industries the principle of employer responsibility for something extra on top of social security.

It seems, first off, that the change will nourish the national trend toward larger companies, a trend which has one of its clearest exemplifications in the automobile industry, which has only a few giants left of scores of manufacturers. This trend serves union purposes, as it is easier for organized labor to deal with one large manufacturer than with many small ones. It is also easier for a giant industry to deal with a union, because it is more dominant in its market and can more easily pass on the added cost of product resulting from concessions to labor.

The settlement between Ford and the union is obviously a reluctant one on the part of Ford and doesn't represent its desire. It made several other proposals and came to GAW only as a last resort and as a strike deadline neared. The circumstances of agreement strongly suggest that big industry has arrived at a point in this country where it not only regards a strike as catastrophic to itself and to the nation, but also as to be avoided at almost all costs. It is better, it appears now to reasoned in some quarters, for big industry it does not believe are desirable rather to concede to labor on principles which than to indulge the economic losses of trial by strike.

The public will support this stand, dreading the disruptive influences of a major strike. The results are not much talked, but they are clearly indicated. The demand for job security is a real one and industry is being forced to revise its production methods to provide it, or to pay for its failure to provide it. Industry, in turn, will pass any added cost along to the consumer. The process, trickling down from big industries to small ones, will cause changes; increasing the difficulties of survival for marginal business, encouraging dominant industries.

The GAW plan agreed to by Ford and the UAW is more than Ford wanted and less than the union sought. The union economists who say that GAW is economically feasible have been disputed by other economists who say that competitive industries cannot guarantee wages, because their own survival is uncertain, and who suggest that it would be better if the government security system were expanded, and not topped by a private meringue of special benefits from specific industries.

With the Ford agreement the employer is on notice that he must provide work for his employees and that if he doesn't he must pay them anyway, for as much as half a year's idleness. The national hope is that the humane guarantee of GAW can be performed without excessive costs by the genius of American Industrial management and the adaptability of the American people.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

In a frontier town in West Texas, a cowboy rushed out of a saloon, essayed a running broad jump, and landed kerplunk on his sit-spot in the middle of a puddle in the roadway.

"Hurt yourself?" asked a bystander languidly.

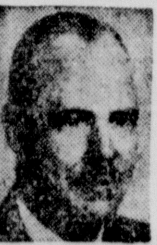

"Reckon I'll live," allowed the cowboy, dusting himself off, "but I'd sure like to get my hands on the varmint who moved my horse!"

Hy Gardner, who doesn't seem to care what he does with his time, took a be-bopper to see a painting of Eli Whitney, explaining, "This is the man who invented the cotton gin."

The b-b examined the portrait straight up, upside down, and sideways, then commented, "Man! They now make booze out of practically anything!"

The Doctor Says . . . Odd Folklore Surrounds Beliefs About the Heart

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Since ancient times the heart has been recognized as essential to life, though why and how have been discovered only comparatively recently.

The connection between life and the heart has brought about a whole lot of superstitions. One ancient Greek superstition, attributed to Pliny, asserts that the heart of one who died of heart disease could not be burned.

Another popular belief mentioned by Pliny, for which there does not appear to be any foundation, is that animals with a hard and rigid heart are looked upon as stupid and lumpy, while those in whom the heart is small are courageous and those with very large hearts are timid.

Inhabitants of the Orkney and Shetland Islands are supposed to have believed that if any person was emaciated by sickness or other accidental causes, the heart was worn away. They believed that this could be discovered by melting a piece of lead and throwing it into cold water. If the hardened lead took the shape of a heart the person would recover.

In the Scottish Highlands a widespread belief was that insanity was caused by a person's heart getting out of place due to a sudden shock. It was also felt that another shock would bring it back to its former position and thus restore the natural balance.

Sudden shock was therefore one of the old remedies for insanity. This is interesting now to recall in the light of the modern development of shock treatment for certain kinds of mental disease.

In the case of sudden death of an expectant mother, a belief sprang up in Scotland that the infant put up its hand and gripped the mother's heart. Hiccough was at one time said to be caused by nerves in the heart in some people and that at every hiccough a drop of blood left the heart.

One man has remarked that since the heart is regarded as the seat of life, soul, wisdom and similar virtues by many primitive peoples, savages devour the hearts of their enemies so that these qualities may pass into them.

A great many popular remedies have been used in the treatment of various kinds of heart disease. Frequently these included the hearts of animals, or heart-shaped inanimate objects. There is a story about a man who was told by a wise woman that his cattle, suffering from pestilence, could be cured only if he got the heart of a man who did not know his parents, dipped it in a bucket of water and sprinkled the cattle with the water!

Shortly after a peddler came by, was murdered, his heart taken and the cattle cured. Unfortunately, the tale goes, the disease was transferred to the murderer's family.

Of course, all of these tales are merely superstition and folklore.

Today In Europe

By DAVID LAWRENCE

THE HAGUE, HOLLAND — The phony cry of anti-colonialism, to which many persons in the free world have so blindly succumbed, has much to answer for in the terrible plight of the people of the so-called republic of Indonesia.

Since the East Indies were governed peaceably by the Netherlands government for along time, the facts available here show a nation torn by revolution, menaced by the steady exodus of foreign capital and ruled by a Communist-inspired dictator. Indonesia has 80,000,000 people, but pro-Communist forces rule the government and prevent elections from being held.

Holland was pressured by the governments of Britain and the United States to give up its colonies and grant complete independence to Indonesia. But the new sponsors today have abandoned the islands. A dictatorship government there continues to defy and spurn a report from the United Nations commission made in October 1950 which sought to carry through its mission of peaceful reconstruction.

The Dutch government is saddened, and so are the people of this country of all parties, that the free world has allowed such a tragedy to happen. Worse of all is the continued indifference of the United Nations to the plight of the republic of the South Moluccas, which was granted autonomy under the historic agreement of 1949 as a member of the new federation comprising the United States of Indonesia. But the Sekarno dictatorship has since torn the federal union's constitution to pieces and seized much of the territory of the Moluccas. The people there are still fighting for liberty and independence under frightful conditions of blockade and economic isolation which are abetted by foreign shipowners in league with the Indonesian dictatorship.

Enlightened colonialism—for the Dutch have undoubtedly been the best of modern administrators and the staunch builders of economic enterprises—has been superseded by Communist colonialism.

Today there is no such thing as human liberty in a democratic sense in Indonesia. Some of the finest Dutch business men—70 of them—have been thrown into jail on trumped-up charges of conspiracy and have been denied the right to choose their own counsel to defend themselves. None of the so-called "wicked" colonial governments of Europe would have dared to do anything of this sort.

The record of Soviet influence in the setting up of the Indonesian republic is known to everyone in official circles familiar with what happened when the Dutch were forced out by diplomatic coercion. In a pamphlet which, after being printed in 1949, was suppressed here in order not to create further complications in the relations with the Indonesians, the Netherlands government says:

"The course of all negotiations with the Republic of Indonesia for a final political over-all agreement, from the very first phase up to the recent breakdown, has been deeply affected by Communist influence and uncover action in the republic and its government."

More than a billion dollars is still invested in Indonesia by the Dutch. The government here is doing all it can to protect those investments and hence nobody advocates a return of Dutch rule. There is deep concern over the prospects. For, although the United Nations helped create the Indonesian republic, it appears to have abandoned the people to a dictatorship. Despite its own intervention just after World War II, the United Nations organization does nothing now to safeguard the rights of the millions of people who, against their will, were stripped of the protection of the Netherlands government.

Obviously Indonesia cannot protect itself against military attack. It cannot ask the Netherlands government to fight future invaders. This is the plight of those smaller countries which want all the advantages of independence without any of the expensive obligations of defense that logically must be assumed by any independent sovereign state.

Most people in the world are very little aware of the present condition of the islands which used to appear on the map as the Dutch East Indies, and where valuable oil and rubber are to be found. After the United States and Soviet Russia, this is the richest area in the world in natural resources. Most people, moreover, do not know why Soviet Russia and Communist China look with such covetous eyes on these islands. But the truth is that, by the process of infiltration and internal conspiracy which is the familiar pattern of the "cold war," the Communists are eager to secure the complete conquest of the Indonesians.

Krushchev Top Man In Russia; West Gets Only Second Team

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (NEA)—Is the Western Big Three scheduled to have its forthcoming "summit" talk with the Russian second team?

In Yugoslavia Marshal Tito talks with Nikita Khrushchev and virtually ignores Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

Yet it is Bulganin with whom President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Anthony Eden and Premier Edgar Faure are scheduled to meet this summer.

Western diplomats are beginning to wonder if the U. S. should not suggest a change in the Russian lineup. Surely if little Yugoslavia rates the full treatment of a delegation led by Communist Party Boss Khrushchev, why should the Western powers sit down with the bearded Bulganin, who begins to look more and more like a figurehead?

It was short, "bull-necked" Khrushchev who held the spotlight in the Soviet delegation to Yugoslavia — though officially he is not even a member of the Russian government.

President Tito, who is intimately familiar with Red "protocol" and the struggle for power in the Kremlin, treated Khrushchev, rather than the silent Bulganin, as his opposite number and equal in rank.

Khrushchev's top role is also confirmed by the reports on the Soviet-Yugoslav negotiations printed in Pravda, mouthpiece of the Russian Communist Party, copies of which just reached this country.

Yet it is with Bulganin who even in the Soviet press was cast in a pitifully subordinate role to Khrushchev, that President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden and France's Premier are scheduled to meet at the forthcoming Big Four conference.

In view of the President's assertion that the meeting will seek to determine procedures that might work in the attempt to solve specific world problems, experts on Russia ask:

1. What assurances are there that Bulganin, at the Big Four talks, will represent the true

2. Wouldn't it be more realistic—and less time-consuming views of the Soviet Politburo? —for the West to cut a corner and request a conference with Khrushchev?

There are strong indications that even Khrushchev, though he may be on the top, is not yet firmly in Stalin's saddle. Since the death of the powerful dictator, Russia is a dictatorship run by a group of ruthless little dictators where the struggle for power continues to rage unabated.

A new fight seems to be brewing in the ranks of the Red Army between Khrushchev's protege, Marshal Ivan S. Koniev, and the popular Marshal Gregori Zhukov. Under the Warsaw agreement recently concluded among the Soviet Union and its European satellites it was Koniev and not Zhukov who was made head of the Red NATO.

Though Zhukov was the victor in Germany in the last war, it was Koniev who held the center of the stage in Moscow on May 8 as the main speaker at the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the defeat of Nazi Germany.

Some U. S. diplomats observe a steady Soviet effort to reduce the importance of President Eisenhower's "comrade-in-arms" and correspondent before the Russian and foreign public.

Is it because Zhukov is considered by Khrushchev and his clique in the Kremlin as too powerful a figure who might one day try to seize the reins of power?

Whatever the reasons, the West must, once again, realize that in any negotiations with Moscow, no Russian leader can give a signature valid beyond the day it was written.

It is now less certain than ever who will be in power in Russia after the Big Four talks.

Today In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The battle between the railroads and the motor trucking industry is a two-ring affair.

In on ring the railroads are trying to keep the truckers from getting any of the freight business now served by rail lines. In the other ring, the railroads are trying to get into the motor truck business themselves, on an ever-increasing scale.

In the middle is the U. S. Interstate Commerce Commission, which has to referee both bouts.

From railway management's point of view, motor truck lines have been muscling into the railroads' once-exclusive freight business to such an extent that they have to muscle back to survive.

One of the key cases is Frisco Transportation Company's operation, going back more than 10 years. Originally the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway Company bought out six private truck lines and established Frisco as a subsidiary to run them.

ICC licensed Frisco to operate "auxiliary and supplementary" service to its main rail line. But in issuing the certificate, these restrictions were inadvertently left out.

ICC ordered the limiting phrases put back in. Frisco contested. It claimed the right to operate an unrestricted motor freight service in six states from Mississippi to Texas.

Last April ICC denied Frisco the right to unrestricted truck operation an delimited it to auxiliary motor services between "key points" in accord with past rail transportation policy.

This key point operation is best illustrated in the Santa Fe Trails Transportation Company case. This A. T. & S. F. subsidiary has been licensed to operate a supplementary truck service along its rail line from Kansas City to Dodge City, Kan., and from Dodge City to Denver.

Santa Fe now seeks to drop Dodge City as a key point so as to give through truck service from Kansas City to Denver. ICC turned down this petition in February. But the railway company is asking for a reconsideration which is pending.

Another case still pending involves Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific's subsidiary Rock Island Motor Transit Company. Last December ICC granted Rock Island the right to operate an unrestricted truck service from Chicago to Omaha.

American trucking associations and affected independent motor carriers in the area have asked for reconsideration of this decision. They also ask that key point restrictions be applied at Omaha, Des Moines, Davenport, Rock Island and Moline.

Their argument is that existing motor carriers now provide adequate truck service between Chicago and Omaha. The trucking industry maintains that if the decision is not reversed, it will lead to general railroad usurpation of truck business.

New York Central of Georgia and other railway companies are also seeking to have key point restrictions lifted. They seek to offer truck service over their entire system areas.

A slightly different approach to the problem is being made by Southern Pacific Railway Company.

It first sought ICC authority to operate Pacific Freight Lines, an independent motor truck carrier, prior to purchase by the railroad and its management as a subsidiary, Pacific Motor Trucking Company.

Major independent truck operators in California bucked S. P.'s application. In January ICC denied the railroad temporary authority to operate the truck service on an unrestricted basis. But a new hearing is now being set up in which S.P. seeks permanent authority to get into the trucking business.

Since passage of the Motor Carrier Act of 1935, ICC has repeatedly ruled that competition between motor carriers and railroads must be maintained. This comes under the general policy that one form of transportation must not control another.

A major change in this policy has now been recommended by the President's Advisory Committee on Transportation headed by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

This committee would end the present requirements that the ICC administer the Interstate Commerce Act to "preserve the inherent advantages" and competition between all forms of transportation.

The Weeks Cabinet committee recommends that this policy be changed so as to "reduce economic regulation . . . restrictions, conditions or limitations or individual modes of transport."

What this is taken to mean is that the railroads would be permitted to enter other branches of the transportation industry denied them in the past. Specifically, it would give the railroads a green light to compete with the truckers.

A pig ate a wallet of an Indiana farmer that had $50 in it. Watch out for a jump in the price of pork.

Pike's Peak Plaque Stolen As Souvenir

DENVER (AP)—An airman from Kansas City has been convicted of stealing a plaque and a time capsule from atop Pike's Peak.

The plaque, unveiled last September, commemorates the first flight of an airplane with a turbo-jet supercharger. The time capsule, containing messages to future generations, was to be opened in 2053.

A federal court jury Monday convicted Edward James Wenski Jr. of swiping the items. Wenski said he pried out the plaque and the capsule beneath it for souvenirs.

Sentence was deferred pending hearing of a new trial motion. The offense carries a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and $10,000 in fines.

Wedding Money Kidnaping Fails

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Jesse Moore, 63, who was to be married next Sunday and needed money, has been charged with attempted kidnaping.

Detective Capt. William Browne said Moore, a machinist, had admitted trying to kidnap a 6-year-old grandson of a millionaire Portland industrialist.

Moore was taken into custody shortly after an intruder broke into the home of Mrs. Lillian Weinstein early Monday and tried to grab one of her twin sons to hold for $20,000 ransom.

The intruder was driven off by Mrs. Weinstein and her mother, and he fled by diving head-first through a window. But he left behind the ransom note and a gun.

Moore identified the gun as his and said, at first, it had been stolen from him the night before. But after extensive questioning Tuesday he broke down and admitted the attempt, Browne said.

Sportsmen's Club Will Meet Thursday

Plans for the 18th annual convention of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs in Escanaba June 16-19 will provide the principal discussion material for the June meeting of the Delta County Sportsmen's Club Thursday evening. The meeting will be held at Club 314, corner of 14th St. and 3rd Ave. S., beginning at 7:30.

Committees in charge of various convention activities will make reports.

Officers urge every member to make a special effort to attend so that full participation can be arranged for the local club's share in convention activities.

Lunch will follow the business session.

Perkins Graduates Return From Trip

PERKINS—The Perkins High School graduating class of 1955 returned last Friday from a class trip to Washington, D. C. and New York City. They left Perkins May 27 by auto for Detroit where they continued by train.

While at Washington, D. C., they toured by sight-seeing bus Alexandria, Arlington, Mount Vernon and saw the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and the home of George Washington at Mount Vernon. The group visited the Pentagon Building, Lincoln Memorial and the White House after which they had lunch at the famous Lotus Club.

During their New York visit, they went on a three hour yacht cruise around Manhattan Island. The class visited the United Nations Building, Radio City Music Hall and viewed a three hour show featuring the Rockettes and were escorted on a conducted tour of the Bowery and Chinatown. At Jersey City, they crossed the Hudson River aboard a ferry boat from where they saw the Statue of Liberty and the New York City skyline.

The seniors stayed at the Taft Hotel in New York which at that time was featuring Vincent Lopez and his Orchestra. They also enjoyed many other sights and went shopping.

Seniors making the trip were Eunice Peterson, Janet Christensen, Mary LaChance, Nancy Way, Larry Hermanson, Melvin Gustafson, Marvin Besson, Harold Mosier and Norbert Deloria. They were accompanied by Leo Godin, superintendent of schools.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Buying demand shifted to the aircraft today and encouraged a modest rise of the stock market into the early afternoon.

Business maintained a rate right around Tuesday's unusually high 3,230,000 shares.

Higher with the steels, aircrafts, and aluminum were farm implements, radio-televions, some non-ferrous metals, chemicals, oils, airlines, and motion pictures.

U. S. government bonds were steady.

Father Landreville Offers First Mass At Hermansville

STEPHENSON—Father Raphael Landreville of Hermansville climaxed his Saturday ordination to the priesthood with a Solemn High Mass at St. Mary's Church Sunday, June 5, at 11 a. m. To the dramatic "Juravit Dominus—Tu Es Sacerdos," sung by the Senior Choir, the colorful procession of altar boys, priests, Monsignori and the new Ordinand, flanked by members of the Iron Mountain Council Knights of Columbus, moved from the rectory to the altar where, before a capacity crowd, he intoned his first Mass.

With Father Landreville in the sanctuary were The Rev. Donald Hartman, close friend of the family, as deacon of the Mass; The Rev. Norbert Lacasse of Iron Mountain as sub-deacon; The Rev. Thomas J. Anderson, pastor of St. Mary's, as arch-priest, Msgr. A. J. Pellissier of St. Mary and Joseph Church, Iron Mountain; and Msgr. David Spelgatti, diocesan director of Our Sunday Visitor, Marquette. Msgr. Spelgatti delivered the address, welcoming the new priest to the Diocesan ranks and outlining the duties and responsibilities he will face. Norbert Landreville, brother of the priest, acted as master of ceremonies. Seminarians Terrance Donnelly and Donald LeLievre assisted.

Clergy Present

Other clergy in attendance included The Rev. Sebastian Maier of Norway; The Rev. Felix of Iron River; The Rev. McArde of Stambaugh; The Rev. Gino Ferraro of Nadeau; The Rev. Walter Franzeck of Spalding; The Rev. Raymond Przybylski, of Vulcan; The Rev. McCarthy of Iron Mountain; The Rev. Weber of Houghton; and The Rev. Brenner of Hancock.

After the Mass, clergy, relatives and friends were feted at a banquet in the parish hall. Speaker for the occasion was the Honorable Joseph Donnelly of Houghton, himself father of a Seminarian to be ordained in two years, who presented the layman view of the priesthood. Msgr. A. J. Pellissier spoke for the clergy, and each attending priest addressed a short message of welcome to Father Landreville. Rev. Thomas J. Anderson acted as toastmaster. Entertainment included two accordion solos by Robert Whittens, a vocal rendition of Schubert's "Ave Maria" by Mrs. John St. Juliana Jr., and "It's a Most Unusual Day" by Miss Sue Doran, with Mrs. L. T. Doran accompanist. Relatives present at the banquet, besides Father Landreville's eight brothers and sisters, were the new priest's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Stanislas Landreville, Mr. and Mrs. Tenaus Landreville and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Landreville, all of Detour, and Lloyd Maves of Hermansville.

A large crowd attended the public reception following the dinner and took part in the Solemn Benediction at 5. Father Landreville extended his personal blessing to all present. He has been assigned by Bishop Noa to take charge of Camp Plagens, Diocesan Retreat Center for youth and men near Watersmeet, which duties he will assume on Wednesday, June 15.

Monday, Rev. Landreville and his family left for Wausau, Wis., where the Landrevilles have resided for the past several years, and where on June 12 he will repeat the ceremony at St. Anne's Church.

contract officers may have made "an honest mistake" which he did not notice and that the government was entitled to a refund.

Quizzed About $50,000

Whereupon Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Investigations subcommittee produced a check made out to the government for $5,089.38 and suggested Lev make good on the spot. Lev signed with a flourish. McClellan said he would forward the check to the proper authorities.

The subcommittee is searching for evidence of possible graft in connection with government contracts awarded to Lev and others for uniform caps and other clothing items for the armed forces.

Lev told about gifts to Mrs. Hort of $300 in clothing in 1953 when she was supervising his contracts in New York armed services procurement headquarters.

He swore Tuesday he never bribed any government employee to get a contract. He denied he had paid $50,000 or any other sum to Air Force Capt. Raymond Wood, who formerly headed military clothing procurement activities in New York.

Wool, who has denied getting bribes, is confined by the Air Force at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, pending further investigation of his story.

Meanwhile, the subcommittee made public previous closed-door testimony in which Mrs. Wool, the Air Force captain's wife, denied Levy's contention that Lev had paid her $5,000 for her husband. She said she knew about no money ever paid the captain by Lev.

Bus Drivers And School Custodians Meet In Marquette

MARQUETTE—School custodians and bus drivers from the Upper Peninsula will confer June 23-24 at Northern Michigan College of Education for the "Eighth Annual Conference on Public Building Maintenance and School Transportation."

The annual educational conference is designed to assist enrollees to obtain current, authentic information on operation and maintenance of school plant and transportation facilities. Lectures, panel discussions and workshops will cover school transportation problems, fire extinguishers, redecorating school rooms, care of grounds, school retirement and other subjects.

The event, which will be centered at Lee Hall on the Marquette campus, is co-sponsored by the Northern Michigan College, the Continuing Education Service of Michigan State, the State Department of Public Instruction, Office for Vocational Education, and also the Michigan Association of School Employees.

Enrollees will receive 15 hours of credit towards the 300 required for a Building Maintenance Course certificate offered by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The special conference staff includes John Bartel, superintendent of buildings and grounds, Escanaba Public Schools; Albert Burroughs, Northern Michigan College of Education; William Carter, Continuing Education Service, Michigan State Barney Crittenden, Hudson, Mich.; Robert High, Ann Arbor Public Schools; George Hosler, School Transportation, Michigan State; George Hoyem, Calumet Public Schools; H. expansion, the province has systematically surveyed harvesting areas and located good stands along many of its coasts, the National Geographic Society says.
Fishermen Are Enlisted
 The Nova Scotia Research Foundation is cooperating with buyers and processors to stimulate seaweed output. Fishermen have been urged to make seaweed harvesting a supplementary occupation.
 Irish Moss, or carrageen, is perhaps the best known seaweed to Americans. It is found off Nova Scotia's coast and along Prince Edward Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Children know one of its chief uses: the making of blancmange, long popular as a dessert in Europe and the United States.
 Seaweed, like the soybean and corn, turns up in widely varying concoctions around the world.
 The extract, carrageenin, is used as a stabilizer in chocolate milk, ice cream, salad dressings, soda fountain syrups, tooth paste, cough syrup and hand lotion. German technologists transformed Norwegian seaweeds into edible sausage casings.
 Dulse, a coarse red seaweed, is eaten raw and dry as a salad in Iceland, Scotland and other northern countries. It serves also as a thickener of gravies, soups and sauces.

Eaten by Chinese
 Purple laver, another red seaweed, is eaten by the Chinese. It is used in American Chinese restaurants as an ingredient of soup. Some Pacific Coast Indians also eat seaweed. The Japanese in America once imported Japanese kelps as a food item, finding the Oriental forms more tasty than the American kelps.
 North Europeans have long used easily obtainable seaweeds as livestock provender. In winter and sometimes even in summer sheep and cattle graze on Ireland's coastal seaweeds. Processed kelp products are bought extensively in America for stock feeding.

Proceed Money Was Stuffed In Diaper
 CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Police had to hold a real shakedown to retrieve the proceeds of a social held by a neighborhood organization.
 The treasurer left the money on a bed and it disappeared. Police finally checked a baby and found the money stuffed in his diaper.

Ford Deal Has Legal Question

DETROIT (AP)—Questions of application of the new Ford-CIO United Auto Workers contract under the state unemployment compensation law were being discussed informally Tuesday.

An element of contract "legality" was one concern. However, this was not held to be too serious. In fact, Governor Williams and others said the law probably could be changed to conform with the contract if necessary.

In any event, the problems weren't pressing. The contract doesn't take effect until June 1, 1956. By then, it was felt, the law could be adjusted, or clarified.

Ford has until June 1, 1956, to start building up the $55,000,000 fund for financing the supplementary benefits plan.

One question in the discussions of the contract's legal position was whether benefits to a laid-off worker are to be classified as "wages," or whether some other term should be applied.

State Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-Lansing), an authority on state unemployment pay, said the law prohibits remuneration in addition to unemployment compensation in some instances.

Hittle said the term "wages" was the crux of the matter.

"Whether a man could get insurance pay (unemployment compensation) would depend on whether the company's payments were called 'wages,'" he said.

So far the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESCC) has taken no position.

In 1953 a U.S. Labor Department survey showed that virtually all states forbade state compensation to a worker who is receiving wages from his employer.

Gov. Williams said he already has asked Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh whether the law should be amended. He said he would call a special session of the Legislature if need be.

Dr. Salk Answers Questions On Polio

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk Tuesday answered some of the most critical questions in parents' minds about his polio vaccine.

Does just one shot give some protection?

Yes, Salk said. It gives a large degree of protection, lasting up to six months or longer.

If a child has had one shot, is paralytic polio more likely or less likely to occur?

Less likely, he said.

Does the giving of one shot increase his chances of getting polio?

No. It reduces the chances.

Does the second shot have to be given soon?

Safe In Summer

No, he said. It apparently can be delayed for up to 30 months, without having to start the vaccination process all over again.

Can the second shot be given during summertime, when polio may be prevalent?

Yes. It is perfectly safe to give the second shot then.

Should a child be given his FIRST shot during summertime, when polio may be widespread?

The consensus is that it can be given then, Salk said. There can be a risk, but it is slight on a communitywide basis.

Can a child who has been vaccinated pass polio on to his brothers, sisters or parents?

Yes, this is possible, and this could explain some of the cases of polio occurring now in families of vaccinated children.

Salk explained why this can happen, in an address to the American Medical Assn., and in a question-and-answer news conference.

He said the vaccine is designed to PREVENT paralytic polio by creating antibodies in a child's bloodstream against the three types of polio virus which can cause human paralysis.

Virus Kept Out

The vaccine cannot prevent polio virus from entering the child's body and infecting him. It's intended to prevent those viruses from hitting at his nerves and causing paralysis. The antibodies in the blood can intercept the viruses before they get to his central nervous system.

But he can pass the virus from his body—even though it doesn't harm the vaccinated child—on to other persons, in the normal but still unexplained way by which polio virus is transmitted from person to person. For a time, the vaccinated child can be a "carrier" of polio virus.

But this "carrier" state can happen to anyone. And the important thing, said Salk, is that the vaccinated child is a carrier for less time than the non-vaccinated youngster.

What, in time, is the ideal thing to do with the polio vaccine?

To vaccinate all children possible. And to vaccinate mothers-to-be, either during or preferably before pregnancy, so that they will pass polio-fighting antibodies on to their babies. These antibodies would persist for a while, with the children getting the polio vaccination later, by about age 1 year.

Leading Citizen Fired By Police

HOUSTON, Tex., (AP)—Texas J. Foster, named one of the nation's 10 outstanding young men by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1952, has been suspended from the Houston police force.

Police Chief Jack Heard said the 29-year-old policeman was suspended indefinitely for "conduct unbecoming an officer." Foster said he will appeal to the city Civil Service Board.

He was honored by the Junior Chamber for his undercover narcotics investigation among Texas teen-agers.

Heard relieved Foster after a fellow officer was wounded slightly in a shooting at a woman's home. Foster said the shooting was accidental. Heard quoted the officers that they had been drinking and the shooting climaxed horseplay during a social call.

I CAN WALK GOOD AGAIN THANKS TO O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"It sure is wonderful to be able to walk again without stumbling over everything in my way. I had arthritis in my legs and knees so bad that it was terribly painful to raise my feet to walk, and many times it caused me to trip and fall. I had to cross over some railroad tracks on my way to work, and I just couldn't seem to step over them, as I tripped over them every time. It was the same story when I tried to climb stairs, so it's a wonder I didn't break my neck. About two years ago, I read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and decided to try it. I didn't know how much good it would do, as I had tried about everything else without success, but was determined to give it a good trial anyway. Well, I am glad to say that O-JIB-WA showed me results in two weeks. The stiffness started to leave, and I could actually walk again without falling over things. My knees sometimes bother me a little yet in the mornings when I first get up, but nothing like they used to. I wish everyone felt as good as I do now. I recommended that all people suffering with rheumatism or arthritis get the big bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and give it a fair trial. It's the best medicine I know of."

Michigan State Exhibit Traces Kitchen Cycle

EAST LANSING—Is the kitchen making a comeback?

One hundred years ago the pioneer kitchen was the center of family life. In the 20th century this trait was lost in American kitchens, but in recent years the kitchen has again become one of the most popular rooms in the home.

Three historic kitchens—authentic in every detail—and four modern kitchens which will be on exhibit at Michigan State College this summer will trace this cycle of kitchen-life from 1855 to 1955. Typical Michigan pioneer and town kitchens of 1855 and a kitchen where Grandmother spent most of her time in 1905 will be on display as a part of the household equipment exhibit in the auditorium during the Centennial of Farm Mechanization, Aug. 15-20.

Assisting In Project
Michigan State faculty members and art students will combine their talents to bring the story of kitchens to vivid life. Designing the historic kitchens is Miss Evelyn A. Zwemer, assistant professor in the home management department.

In the days of the crude log cabin—prominent on the Michigan frontier a century ago—the kitchen was a place to cook meals, make the family clothes with spinning wheel and loom and read the Bible.

This drab kitchen had a rough plank floor, bare walls and no curtains. A familiar sight was a big, black pot of stew simmering in a huge fireplace made of Michigan fieldstone.

Frontier dangers will be recalled by the trusty flint lock rifle hanging over the mantle. The rifle was used chiefly for hunting and protection against marauding bears and other wild animals.

Greenfield Village
Miss Zwemer said the town kitchen of 1855 was copied in detail from an historic Greenfield Village replica. Here, too, home life centered around the kitchen. A typical scene was father smoking his pipe in his favorite splint-bottomed chair; mother knitting socks in the light of a tallow candle, and little Johnny sprawled in front of the roaring stove reading a school primer.

This kitchen had a glistening black coal and wood range with the pioneer boy's nemesis—the old wood box that always seemed to need filling. Other furnishings were a cast iron sink, a hand pump and hand-cranked churn with wooden gears.

Fifty years ago kitchens began to lose their pioneer qualities and homey appeals. The parlor was beginning to steal the kitchen's thunder.

One of the newer innovations was the gas range and the venerable wooden ice box made its bow. Another boon to the homemaker was a cabinet with built-in cupboards. Gas lights replaced tallow candles and kerosene lamps and life became easier.

Modern Kitchens
After a look into the past, visitors can step back into the present by viewing today's modern kitchens which are regaining their lost popularity. They are being made larger and equipped with comfortable furniture—even a sofa. Many kitchens are now the scenes of television parties and other family entertainment.

Besides the big family kitchen others on display will include the small and inexpensive bride's kitchen; the kitchen for the family with small children featuring an inside "play yard"; and a kitchen for the retired couple where work simplification is key-noted.

Then there will be demonstrations of various home appliances—from ultra modern ranges to refrigerators—plus many labor-saving devices.

Displays of antique sewing machines, laundry equipment and ironers—many 100 years old—will also be on exhibit.

SELF-PROTECTION NEEDED

SOUTH, after going down a trick at his four-spade bid, proclaimed that he was the victim of fate—the two key cards at large had been unfavorably placed. Well, there was no denying the latter part of his statement, but the more pertinent fact was that he could have protected himself very easily.

West dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:
West North East South
1♥ 2♣ 2♥ 4♠
Pass Pass Pass Pass

Distributed by King Features Syndicate

Both West and East thought about competing against South's four-spade bid, but they both decided that the cost might be excessive and unnecessary. Actually, with the diamond king in the South hand, not too well guarded, and the club ace right, they could have made five hearts, but they were right about the "unnecessary" part.

West laid down the heart king. South ruffed, cashed the trump ace, then let the club nine ride. East won and shifted to the diamond queen, and down South went.

South pointed out to his partner that if the club king had lain right he would have taken all 13 tricks, and this was true (assuming that West had the club king with less than three guards). But, at rubber bridge, the observation had no great pertinence. South's first duty was to insure the contract, and the way to do that was to let West win the first trick, discarding a club from the closed hand.

Observe how this simple play would safeguard the contract. Now, reduced to one club, South could definitely keep East off lead by cashing the club ace and sending other clubs through East for a ruffing-finesse, trumping the club king if and when East played that card, or discarding diamonds if East did not produce the king.

Awards Made On Class Night

Mary Alice Cameron was announced as the Best All-Around Girl and Tom Brewer was chosen for the University of Michigan Delta County Club Award at Class Night activities which were a portion of the 63rd annual commencement exercises last night at Gladstone High School.

Mary Alice is a daughter of Supt. and Mrs. Wallace C. Cameron while Tom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Brewer.

Mary Alice also received the valedictorian award while the salutatorian award went to Mary Jo Bolger.

Two other awards made by Supt. Cameron were citizenship and went to Larry Feldt and Mary Beth Cannon.

Scholarships Given

John Norton made the scholarship awards. Charles Goldsworthy received one to Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Tom Brewer one to Albion, Mary Alice Cameron the University of Michigan, Larry Feldt and Janice Watson to Northern Michigan College of Education and Louise Klug to McPhail School of Music. It was announced that possibly five others may be forthcoming within the next day or two. Norton also awarded social study keys to Mary Beth Cannon and Larry Feldt.

Music awards in the form of trips to the National Music Camp at Interlochen were made to Jeanette Krout and Claire VanDamme.

Forensic awards went to Karen Hult, Janet Sue Olson, Frank Lash, Francis Anderson, Karen Kliner, Martha Mathison and Pete Weingartner.

Student Council awards were made by William Hinze and basketball and golf awards were made by Coach Eldon R. Keil and a tennis award by Norman Peterson on behalf of Norm Butler who won the Class C-D-E singles net title at Stambaugh recently.

Members of the large audience which attended the exercise were welcomed by Mary Jo Bolger while Mary Alice Cameron delivered the farewell address. Both were well received. Jim Sundelius, president of the senior class, had a bit of advice for the juniors and Walter Houghton, president of the junior class, responded.

Portrayed in Playlet

The prophecy, class and giftatory was cleverly portrayed in a playlet entitled, A Day at the Carnival put on by the top ten students in which Larry Feldt and Tom Brewer were side show barkers, Janice Watson put on "A Look at Your Past", Mary Jo Bolger, Karen Lash and Mary Alice Cameron handled the "Fish Pond", Mary Beth Cannon and Carol Mackie the "Fortune Tells" while Bette Kennedy and Patricia Ellingson conducted a "Lost and Found".

A copy of the Minnewascan, the Senior year book, was presented in person to James T. Jones, to whom the 1955 issue was dedicated. A memorial presentation of the Minnewascan was made to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sarasin, whose daughter, Ruth, a member of the Senior class, was killed last year in an automobile accident.

Band numbers were interspersed in the program.

Thursday night the final phase of the commencement will be given at which time diplomas will be presented to 75 seniors.

Final exams for all will be completed Thursday and report cards are to be issued Friday afternoon at 1.

Citizens Are Told Need For More School Funds

An explanation of school finances and the reason for the need of an increase in millage to be requested of the people at a special election July 11 was given by Supt. of Schools Wallace C. Cameron at a special citizens' meeting Monday evening in the high school gym. The gathering was sponsored jointly by the Central and Buckeye Parent-Teacher Associations.

Mrs. Ben Erickson, president of the Central PTA, explained the purpose of the meeting and introduced Supt. Cameron.

Supt. Cameron reviewed school financing and by use of charts graphically portrayed the sources of income that make up the school budget. He pointed out that outside monies made up the greater share of school income and that the local contribution was approximately 15 per cent of the total budget.

Contribute Least

The yearly budgets from 1950 to the present were reviewed. They reveal a continuous increase in cost of instruction and supplies in contrast to State Aid which has decreased. The speaker explained that with the present method of school financing, it is necessary to carry over some $35,000 at the close of the fiscal year to keep from borrowing at mid-year before state monies come in. State aid starts coming in January or the first month of the calendar year.

A study showing what other communities have done to solve problems of similar nature was presented. At the present time, the local tax rate of 7 mills was the lowest on the list.

It was pointed out that if the proposed increase was approved that it would mean an addition of only $15.00 per year for the average home owner.

Supt. Cameron also emphasized that all persons who are properly registered as qualified electors are eligible to vote on the question to be presented.

Refreshments were served by the PTA officers following the meeting.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Dan Willis who passed away one year ago today, June 8, 1954:

Loving and kind in all his ways, Upright and just to the end of his days.

Sincere and true in his heart and mind.

A beautiful memory he left behind.

He had a nature you could not help loving.

A heart that was purer than gold.

And to those who knew him and loved him,

His memory will never grow old. Your memory to me is a keepsake.

With which I will never part. Though God has you in his keeping.

I still have you in my heart. Nothing can ever take away The love my heart holds dear.

Fond memories linger every day. Remembrance keeps him near.

SHADY NOOK IN THE KITCHEN—The tree that grew in Brooklyn could not have been more greatly appreciated than this one growing in the kitchen of a monastery in West Berlin, Germany. It's there because the nuns of the Order of The Good Shepherd refused to have it destroyed when the monastery was expanded 10 years ago. They built the kitchen around the tree. Kitchen helpers, like the one above, enjoy the chestnut tree's shade. Top of the tree grows through an opening in the roof.

Impressions Of Sweden Penned

An interesting letter has been received from A. Theodore Sohlberg, local justice of peace and insurance man, who is now on tour of Sweden. It was posted at Motala. He has been quartering at Tidan.

The letter:

"A bright, sunny morning is this. Apple blossoms are breaking open. Flowers are opening everywhere—in windows, doorways—everywhere I go. Have crossed some lovely countryside. A good farming area this with a black loam three meters deep. Producing heavy crops after a thousand years of cultivation. I have seen much that is old and much that is new. Fewer automobiles here per capita, fewer electrical devices in the homes. More bicycles—higher wages than anywhere else except in U. S. A. Standard of living higher here on the average because there are no "poor" people here. And no slums that I have been able to discover.

"The most beautiful sights I have seen? The children of Sweden. I have seen hundreds of them "cycling" to school, on buses, in the country and in the towns. Fresh, healthy, clean, neatly dressed. Teenagers without rouge and lipstick. It is because of them that I shall always love to remember what I have seen—so far.

"Of course, nothing is perfect and unfortunately the very big cities in Sweden as well as elsewhere harbor elements similar to what has recently come to light in our own great cities, and there are fears they will spread.

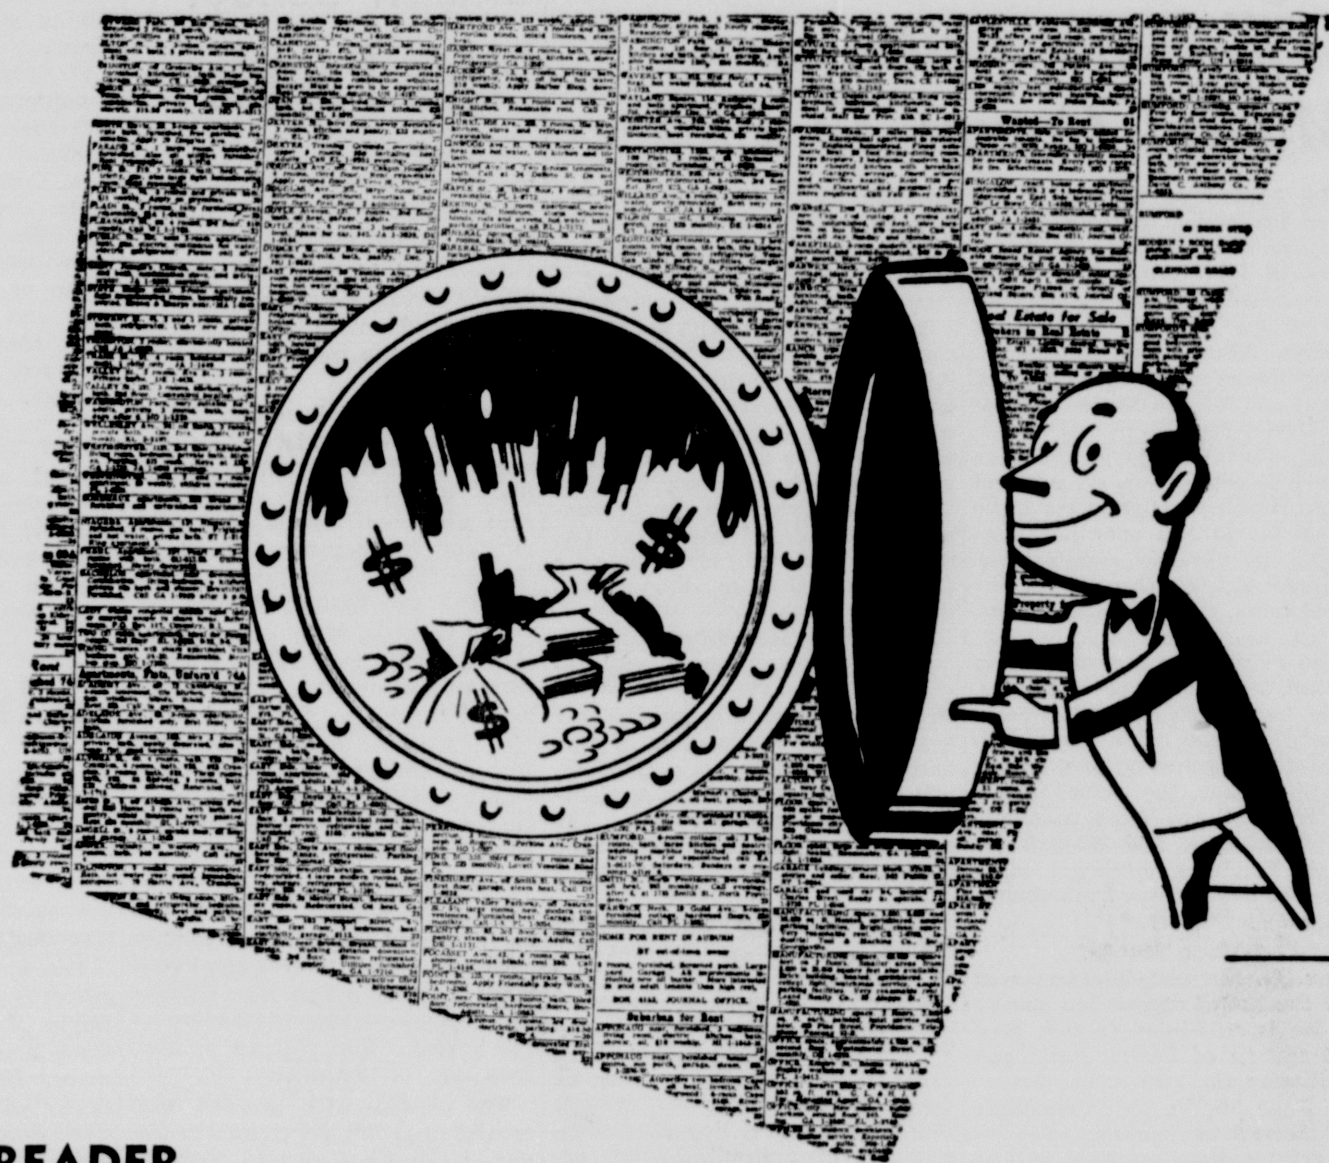

"Have been in these parts about a week. Am returning to Tiden this weekend and then probably a foray into the realm of Gosta Birling."

Church School Plans Parade

A parade, the first of its kind in the city, is planned Saturday for the vacation Bible school of the Bethel Baptist church.

Decorated bicycles, cars, a big "float" and music are planned. All children who wish may enter the parade for the best decorated bicycle award.

Judging will take place at Triangle Park. Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners. The award for first place will consist of a week at camp in August. The judges will be Alex Creighton, Ernest Eckland and Willard Bolitho.

The vacation Bible school at the church will be held Monday through Saturday, June 13-18 from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. The closing service is planned for 7:30 p. m., June 19. All children from five upwards in the community are welcomed if they are not attending classes in their own church.

The theme of the school will be "Sailing with Christ." There will be a tell-a-mission series feature each day, treats, awards and handwork for each group. Mrs. Chauncey Hinkson is superintendent of the school. She will be assisted by a staff of 15 workers.

The parade will proceed east from Bethel Baptist church to Cedar, south on Cedar to Triangle Park for judging, and then north on Cedar to River, to Deer and east on Deer to 5th St., where it will disband.

Those participating in the parade will assemble at 2 p. m., at the church. Police will escort the parade.

World Briefs
TOKYO (AP)—Now it's the Japanese army that is under attack for being wasteful. The newspaper Nihon Keizai said the army has "hoarded" enough winter uniforms to last for 10 years at the present rate of use.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The United States has filed a claim for $1,620,295 against the Soviet Union for the loss of a B29 bomber and its eight-man crew off northern Japan three years ago, the World Court announced.

The claim charges that the bomber, flying a training trip, was pursued over Japanese territory and then shot down into the sea by two Russian planes.

Tests Started On Sub-Station

Electrical tests on the new sub-station which is being constructed here for the Edison Sault Electrical company were scheduled to begin today and continue through Thursday.

Steel framework on the new station is about completed and plans now call for cutting over lines at least by June 19, according to Fred Williams, Manistique manager.

H. O. Jensen, chief electric engineer for the Edison Soo company, and his assistant, T. H. Bailey, are here for the tests, as well as Edward Seasley, of Saginaw, engineer for the General Electric company, who is supervising the testing and phasing.

The new substation here will provide an additional 3,000 KVA when in operation.

This year's Gladstone Braves tennis team is the first to represent the school since 1942. Coach Norman Peterson's Braves turned in a good performance considering their lack of previous competition by placing third in Class C-D-E. And Norm Butler surprised U. P. tennis followers by winning the singles championship. Peterson coached the Braves netters before leaving to enter service in 1942 and tennis was not offered at Gladstone again until this season.

You want to lose a little weight? Les Bingham, Detroit Lions star middle guard on defense, who is fishing walleyes in this area, has a good way to do it. Bingham says he loses about 40 pounds during the football season with the Lions. He's listed at 235 in the Detroit Lions yearbook.

Asked if his retirement announcement late last season was the real thing, Bingham said it was and that he has no plans to play football next fall. He indicated he would be interested in remaining with the Lions in some other capacity, however. Bingham said that Jug Girard, who has many friends in this area, has opened a new bar, the Lions Den, in Detroit in partnership with Hunchy Hoernschemeyer, veteran Detroit halfback.

Waldon (Punch) Johnson, one of Rapid River High School's all-time athletic greats, is back from college at Ashland and starring on the Rapid River team in the Bay de Noc League. A pitcher, Johnson also throws his weight around at the plate. Last Sunday he slugged four hits in six trips against Perkins and in his other start against Cooks he collected four for five.

Greenwood Slugs .404 To Set Crusader Pace

It took Jim Greenwood, star Holy Name second baseman, several games to get started this season but when he found the range he slapped the ball around at a fantastic rate. Greenwood went hitless his first 11 times at the plate. But he found the range in Holy Name's third game of the season against Powers to snap out of the slump. In his next start he slammed a homer and a triple against Bark River and then began slugging the ball with regularity. He finished the 14-game season with 19 hits in 47 times at the plate for a .404 batting average. Greenwood led the Holy Name team in all departments at the plate. He scored 18 runs and drove in 13, was at the plate the most times, got the most hits and had the highest batting average. Two other Holy Name players batted over .300 for the season, Pitcher Gary Paler hit .363 on four hits in 11 trips and regular catcher Jim Brown pounded the ball for .315 on a dozen hits in 38 times up. Next to Greenwood, outfielder Denis McGinn was the most productive hitter on the team. McGinn had only 10 hits in 42 times at the plate for a .238 average but he hit with men on bases to drive in 12 runs. First baseman Joe Juetten also came through in the clutch to send 11 runners across the plate on 15 hits. Coach Tom St. Germain's Crusaders completed a highly successful season by moving into the finals of the first annual Upper Peninsula Invitational tournament before bowing to Soo Loretto 3-2 in 12 innings. The Crusaders had a season and tournament record of 11 wins and 3 defeats. All the losses came by one-run margins. They were to Stephenson, Escanaba and Loretto.

White Sox Get Jim Busby Back

CHICAGO (AP)—General Manager Frank Lane brought outfielder Jim Busby back to the Chicago White Sox Tuesday in a deal which sent outfielder Johnny Groh, catcher Clint Courtney and pitcher Bob Chakales to Washington. Busby, 28, currently is batting .230 while Groh, also 28, is hitting at a .349 clip after a .275 year in 1954. Courtney, also 28, hit .270 for Baltimore last year but is currently hitting .370. Chakales, 27-year-old right-hander, has no record. Last year he won five and lost seven with Baltimore. Busby played with the Sox in 1950 and 1951 and was traded to Washington early in 1952 for outfielder Sam Mele, no longer with the Sox. "We needed Mele's power then," explains Lane "and Busby had not yet learned to hit." Busby "learned" fast. After finishing 1952 with a .236 average, he hit .312 in 1953 driving in 82 runs and .298 last year with 80 RBIs. Mele finished the 1952 season with a .259 average and upped it to .274 the following year before Lane shuffled him to Baltimore for Groh and a couple of other players no longer around.

Fan Club Makes Plans To Send Eskymos To Milwaukee

The Eskymo Fan Club announced plans today to finance a trip for the Escanaba High School baseball team to Milwaukee to see the Braves play the Cubs in an afternoon game on Thursday, June 30.

Fan Club officials announced that $400 will be needed to send Coach Jim Rouman and his all-winning Eskymos to the Braves game and made arrangements for donations to finance the trip.

Individuals or businesses interested in donating for the trip are asked to mail or present their checks in person to either Nels Jensen or Harry Gruber at the State Bank of Escanaba. Gruber and Jensen will act as collecting agents for the Eskymo Fan Club.

Travel By Bus The team and coach will travel by Greyhound bus to Milwaukee for the game and will remain overnight, returning to Escanaba Friday morning. The Fan Club is promoting the

Haga Calls For Practice Meet

First practice session for the Gladstone Legion Junior baseball team was called for this evening at 7 at the Bayshore Diamond by Manager Gordon Haga.

Haga asked all eligible players interested in joining the Waubung League team to report to practice this evening. Positions are open to all boys born after Sept. 1, 1937, according to American Legion Junior rules.

Haga also said he would welcome any assistance in managing the team this season.

Gladstone will open Waubung League play with a home game Sunday against Powers.

The team will be registered for American Legion Juniors and will play in tournament competition later in the summer.

Gladstone Women To Play Golf Thursday

GLADSTONE—The Gladstone Golf Club women's weekly golf and bridge session will be held Thursday afternoon starting with lunch at 1.

Match play will get under way next week. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Vi Damitz, Mrs. June Craft, Mrs. Josie Dehlin and Mrs. Alice D'Amour.

victories for a high school team and is one of the best records in the nation.

The Eskymo Fan Club was organized this spring to help promote and support Escanaba High School athletics. The club sponsored an athletic recognition dinner at the High School last month which drew 250 varsity and jayvee athletes, school people and Fan Club members.

Club officials expressed hope that fans and followers would respond generously to the appeal for financial help. "This baseball team has done so much for Escanaba athletics it is only right that we should do something in return," a spokesman stated.

Jim Hall Team Is New Golf Leader

A 10-2 victory over Ed Barry's team pushed the Jim Hall quarter into first place in the Escanaba Golf Club's twilight team play event last night, one-half point ahead of last week's leaders, the Don Boyce crew. Yesterday's play was also featured by Walt Benzinger, moving them from 13th place to 6th in the standings.

Low gross rounds for the evening: Harry Hogan 36, Don Boyce 39 and Ed Kozel 39.

Team standings: Hall 28, Boyce 27½, Loe 25, Hogan 23½, Frost 19½, Dickson 19, Hendrickson 18½, Ward 18, Needham 17½, Freeman 17, Anspaugh 17, Bennett 15½, Gerletti 13, Benzinger 12, Barry 11½, and Snyder 5½.

Bears Manager Asks For More Candidates

Manager Dick Lough issued a call for more candidates for positions on the Escanaba Bears baseball team and announced that a practice session will be held Thursday at 6:30 at the City Diamond.

"We need additional players on the team and we want anybody interested to come out for the practice session tomorrow," Lough said.

The Bears have won two straight games in Tri County League play this season and have a rain-out game with Hardwood yet to be played. A number of former Escanaba High School athletes joined the team for the first time last week and make up the nucleus of the squad.

Next Sunday the Bears are scheduled to travel to Hermansville in league play. Their victories have been posted over Perronville and Powers, the latter on a two-hit pitching performance by Harlan Breitman which the Bears won 1-0.

The Bears rejoined the Tri County League this season after an absence of two years. They dominated the league during their membership a few years ago.

Among the former Eskymo players who are now with the team are Harlan Breitman, Norm Seguin, Jack Carlson, Pat Coyne, Jim Beck, Hugh Ray and Bob Bero.

The call for more candidates is expected to draw additional players to the squad at the workout tomorrow evening.

Nashua, Swaps May Be Matched

CHICAGO (AP)—The Tribune said today negotiations were underway for a match race between Swaps and Nashua, the No. 1 and 2 runners in the Kentucky Derby.

The Tribune said the leading contenders for the 3-year-old championship may meet at Washington Park in August. "William Woodward Jr., owner of Nashua, has expressed hopes that his brilliant colt will get a chance to regain the undisputed ascendancy he held before Swaps beat him in the Kentucky Derby," the newspaper said.

It continued, "Rex Ellsworth, who owns Swaps, plans to bring him to Chicago for the Washington Park meeting which runs from Aug. 1 through Sept. 5. It was reported that he too looks favorably on the projected match."

The Tribune added that details of the race have not been agreed upon "but it is understood that the purse would be from $50,000 to $100,000, winner take all."

Grand Rapids Man Is Senior Leader

PORT HURON (AP)—C. J. Farley, of Grand Rapids, heads the field today going into the final round of the 25th annual Senior Spring Golf Tournament.

Farley, competing in the 60-64 age group, fired a one-over-par 74 Tuesday in the opening round on the Black River County Club course.

Runnerup in gross scoring was H. C. Aroid, playing in the 55-59 age group. Aroid, playing from the Barton Hills course at Ann Arbor, shot a 77.

RAPID RIVER TRACK TEAM—Coach Roger Carlson's track squad completed a highly successful season, capturing the Central League crown and placing second in both the U. P. Finals and the Marquette Relays. # Paper Mill Notches Sixth Softball League Victory

Results Last Night Paper Mill 5, Northland Bread 2.

Dells 3, Clairmont Transfer 2. Games Tonight 7—Paper Mill vs. Rapid River. 8:30—Eagles vs. Merchants.

Paper Mill rang up its sixth victory against one defeat in the American Softball league last night by turning back Northland Bread, 5-2.

The Dells managed only one hit off John Baker but it was a timely one and produced a 3-2 victory over Clairmont Transfer.

Leo Lancour handled mound duties for the second-place Paper Mill team, scattering five hits among the Breads. The Millers snapped a 2-2 tie in the mid-inning to take the victory. Ron Joran was the big man at the plate for Paper Mill with a single and a double in three trips driving in three runs.

Ken Dufresne went the route for Northland and gave up six safeties. Angie Hirn slammed a single and a double and Les Kamine had two hits for the losers.

Cliff Johnson notched the win for the Dells, tuning up for his big start against the Harnies at 8:30 Thursday night. Commissioner Paul Vardigan announced that the first game Thursday has been changed because Northland will be unable to play. The Merchants will meet Clairmonts in the 7 o'clock clash.

In those Thursday night games, two of the top pitchers in the league will be on opposite mounds and a newcomer will toss in the other game. The league-leading Harnies will go with Pat Moran while Johnson will be in action for the Dells.

Bill McGovern will make his first start on the mound for the Merchants and Baker is expected to twirl for Clairmonts.

In the National League last night Kessler's beat McDermott's 4-1 behind one-hit pitching by Cliff Larson. The only blow off the Kessler hurler was a homer by Jim Hirn in the fourth inning.

John Decker led Kessler's plate attack off Bob McDonough with a homer in the third with none on. McDonough gave up five hits. The win was the second for Kessler's in three starts.

Ken Dufresne went the route for Northland and gave up six safeties. Angie Hirn slammed a single and a double and Les Kamine had two hits for the losers.

Cardinals Only In Fifth But Musial Finding Range

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Those St. Louis Cardinals may be only in fifth place, but with Stan Musial starting to hit again, things may be getting better any day now.

Stan's had his usual slow start so far, but he's perked up when the Cards needed him most. He's up to .317 as of today, moving up in a 13-game revival in which he's hit .375.

Thursday night, the Redbirds were on the verge of slipping into seventh place. And voila! Musial smacked 3 for 5, drove in three runs and scored himself in a 5-4 triumph over the Phils.

That eased the Cardinals into a fifth-place tie with Cincinnati after the Redlegs had been blanked by the first-place Brooklyn Dodgers 4-0.

Cubs Rally To Win

Brooklyn stayed eight games up as the runner-up Chicago Cubs came from behind with four runs in the sixth to beat Pittsburgh 4-3 while the resurrected Milwaukee Braves knocked New York's Giants out of third 13-4.

In the American, the New York

Yankees remained 4½ games out from while losing to Detroit 4-3 in 12 innings. The Chicago White Sox—ran out in their game with Baltimore—slipped into second place .005 percentage points ahead of Cleveland as the Indians lost to Boston 9-5.

The only other AL action went to Washington, with the Senators sweeping a two-night twinbill at Kansas City 3-2 and 7-3.

Simmons Is Chased

At Philadelphia, Musial's two-run double in the first chased starter Curt Simmons, and his triple in the eighth drove home the winning run off loser Murry Dickson. Harvey Haddix won his third with relief help from Frank Smith after giving up earlier two-run homers to Del Ennis and Jim Greengrass.

Brooklyn missed hitting a home run for the first time in 13 games, but the Redlegs managed just five hits off Johnny Podres, who won his sixth.

Milwaukee clobbered the slumping Giants with six runs in the second that sent Johnny Antonelli to his seventh defeat. The Braves got five more in the ninth as Chet Nichols won No. 5 with help from Warren Spahn.

Giants Lose Dark

The Giants, now half a game back of the Braves, lost shortstop Al Dark for an indefinite period when X-rays revealed a pair of bone chips suffered when he was hit on the left hand by a pitched ball Sunday.

Five singles and an error pulled the Cubs from behind in the sixth at Pittsburgh to shorten the night for Max Surkont. Darius Hillman, Hal Jeffcoat and Howie Pollet combined in relief to save Warren Hacker's sixth victory.

Fred Hatfield's homer off reliever Tom Sturdivant gave Ned Garver his first triumph over the Yankees in six years. Eddie Robinson smacked a two-run homer and Joe Collins a bases - empty clout for the Yankees.

Score Knocked Out

Rookie Herb Score didn't survive the first inning against the Red Sox as Ted Williams hit a two-run double. But after Cleveland tied it at 3-all in their half of the frame to chase Mel Parnell, Boston got four runs in the fourth off loser Art Houtteman to win it for George Suss.

Three runs in the ninth—with Bill Wilson's three-base error letting the lead run score—broke up Alex Kellner's shutout and won for the Senators in the opener at Kansas City. Mickey McDermott gave 13 hits and walked six in the night-cap, but hung on for his fifth victory.

Carlos Paula, Washington outfielder, reached across and hit a sacrifice fly in the second game as rookie Art Ceccarelli attempted to give him an intentional walk.

It Might Be Too Late But Milwaukee Corpse Revives

NEW YORK (AP)—It may be too late, but the corpse is beginning to move.

The "dead" Milwaukee Braves, rated a strong National League pennant contender before the start of the season, have won five of their last six games and today held down third place for the first time since they started to nose-dive three weeks ago.

Manager Charley Grimm isn't so jolly these days what with rumors making the rounds that he's on his way out.

The Braves still are 13 games off the pace.

Not Giving Up

"We're not giving up," he said with a wry smile. "We still have a chance."

Well, then, what has been the trouble with the Braves?

"Injuries have hurt us badly. Now it's Joe Adcock and Andy Pafko. Before it was Bobby Thomson and Eddie Mathews. All year long it's been something."

"I can't blame it all on the injuries. The guys who haven't been injured have been hurting us just as much."

"They weren't hitting and they weren't pitching. Now at least the pitching seems to have squared away."

Judging by Tuesday night's 13-4 slaughter of the New York Giants, the hitting may be coming around too.

The defeat dumped the world

Lane Is Easy Ring Winner

DETROIT (AP)—Southpaw Kenny Lane of Muskegon was one step closer to a hoped-for title match with lightweight champion Jimmy Carter today following a convincing victory over Eli Leggett of Detroit.

Lane, forcing the action all the way, pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over Leggett Tuesday night in the headliner bout at Motor City Arena. Lane weighed 135 and Leggett 134½.

Lane wasted no time piling up points, staggering Leggett several times in the early rounds and jolting him with an effective left till the final bell.

Promoter Julius Piazza has been negotiating since March with Carter's manager, Willie Ketchum, for a title bout between Carter and Lane this summer in Detroit, Flint or Saginaw.

Major Woodson, 147½, Detroit, outpointed John Gillespie, Benton Harbor in a five round preliminary bout.

The six-run second wrapped it up for the Braves, who peppered four Giant pitchers for 17 hits.

Five of the hits came in the big second, including a two-run double by Ed Mathews and a two-run homer by Hank Aaron that chased Antonelli. Bobby Thomson popped a home run into the right field seats off Paul Giel before the young right hander got the side out.

Score by innings:

Milwaukee 6 100 005—13 17 1

New York . . . 002 000 200—4 10 3

Nichols, Spahn (7) and Crandall; Antonelli, Giel (2), Wilhelm (8), McCall (9) and Westrum. Nichols, L-Antonelli.

Home runs—Milwaukee, Aaron, Thomson, New York, Lockman.

Republicans Cop Diamond Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans scrambled to a 12-4 victory at Griffith Stadium Tuesday night to break a seven-year Democratic winning streak in the congressional baseball series.

Scramble is a fairly apt word. The Republicans had the benefit of six errors of record and numerous others that didn't go on the official scorecard. Additionally, Rep. Torbert MacDonald of Massachusetts and his successors on the mound for the Democrats gave up nine bases on balls. Republican hitters were credited with nine safeties, many of them gifts of a generous scorer.

The Democrats' seven hits led to four runs as Rep. Glenn Davis of Wisconsin pitched himself out of a series of jams. None of the pitchers seemed able to control base runners once they reached first. There were 12 stolen bases.

Chief Justice Earl Warren threw out the first pitch in the game for the benefit of the Evening Star's underprivileged children's fund.

Madison Square Garden Officials Resign Jobs

NEW YORK (AP)—Chairman Bernard F. Gimbel and five other members of the board of directors of Madison Square Garden have offered their resignations because they are "captives" of boxing promoter Jim Norris, the New York Herald Tribune said today.

Miss Downey Signs New Golf Record

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore had her eye on setting a new 54-hole record for competition in the Women's Eastern Golf Assn. championship tournament today as the field of 42 started the second round.

The 29-year-old Miss Downey toured the Farmington Country Club layout in a drizzling rain Tuesday in even par 73 to take a four stroke lead.

If she continues the pace throughout the three-day event, she would break by two strokes the record 221 established last year by Mrs. Mae Murray Jones of Rutland, Vt.

The Herald Tribune identified the other board members who tendered their resignations as Walter P. Chrysler Jr., Sydney J. Weinberg, William M. Greve, Janzen Noyes and Stanton Griffiths.

Norris was unavailable for comment and Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, president of the Garden, would say only:

"I'd rather not discuss the situation."

The Herald Tribune said the six members were displeased by the admission from Norris that he knew Frankie Carbo, an underworld figure who is reputed to have a major say in the doings of the fight business, Norris made the admission during hearings conducted by the New York State Athletic Commission.

The members also were said to be annoyed because the Garden has been turned into a "television studio" drawing only small fight crowds and the fact that Norris, as head of the International Boxing Club, promoted the recent Rocky Marciano - Don Cockell heavyweight championship bout in San Francisco.

Eddie Arcaro Eves Sixth Belmont Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Arcaro, who has ridden more Kentucky Derby and Preakness winners than any other jockey, will take dead aim on his sixth Belmont stakes Saturday with Nashua.

The 39-year-old Arcaro needs another victory to tie Jimmy McLaughlin, who won six Belmonts between 1882 and 1888.

Arcaro is tied with Earl Sande among modern day riders of Belmont winners, and the Belair Stud Nashua is expected to be a heavy odds-on favorite in the 87th running of the great 3-year-old classic.

How many colts will face the starter in the televised mile and one half race is undetermined.

The probabilities include: Hilton A. (Rabbit) Dabson's Nance's Lad, who handed Boston Dodge his first defeat in the Swift Stakes; Lady Lawrence's Jabneh; Howard Weinstein's Mr. A. L. and Flying Fury, from the Cain Holy Stable.

His first stop in the minors was Roanoke Rapids, of the Coastal Plain League. After pitching for Jamestown, N. Y., of the Pony League in 1950 Duke went into the Army.

At Ft. Campbell, Ky., he was the star hurler for his team that went to the finals of the semi-pro championships at Wichita, Kan.

When Maas returned from the Army he played for Durham of the Carolina League in 1953 and found it difficult getting back into the hurling groove. He won 6 and lost 16.

Last year, however, Duke showed he had the makings of a classy moundman. Playing for Wilkes Barre in the Eastern League he won 11 and lost only 3 games, finishing with a brilliant 1.10 earned run average. It was 12th in the loop. He had 102 strikeouts in 123 innings.

He was transferred to the Tiger's top farm club, Buffalo of the International League and won seven games, losing four.

That made his 1954 record 18 wins and 7 losses.

Duke fared well in spring training and Bucky Harris showed confidence in the youngster right from the beginning by using him as a starting hurler.

When asked if any particular person on the Tigers helped him with his pitching, the Duke just shrugged his shoulders and said "Everybody, I guess."

"Everybody on the club has been wonderful to me. Bucky has given me pointers. Pitching coach Schoolboy Rowe and some of the more experienced pitchers have helped, too."

When he defeated Mike Garcia and the American League champion Cleveland Indians 3-2 he displayed the type of hurling that will make the Tigers tough in the pennant race this season.

He was transferred to the Tiger's top farm club, Buffalo of the 102.2.2 Suburban: The minimum monthly bill for suburban off-peak water heating shall be the "Service Charge" herein set forth, and the minimum annual bill shall be $12.00. The owner of property served shall be responsible for minimum annual bill. However, owner will be allowed credit for service to tenants after the above rates.

Section 103 Small Power Rate shall apply to any power customer within the city limits of the City of Escanaba, that in excess of one-half (1/2) of less than 5,000 K. W. H., or demand of less than 50 K. W. H., provided, however, that no customer will be metered on this rate unless he has a connected load of three horse-power or more. The nature of the service is 24 hours alternating current, 60 cycle, three phase, 220 or 440 volts.

Section 103.1 Small Power Rate (low voltage):

$0.4 net per KWH for the first 100 KWH used per customer per month

$0.35 net per KWH for the next 400 KWH used per customer per month

$0.2 net per KWH for the next 6000 KWH used per customer per month

$0.15 net per KWH for all over 6000 KWH used per customer per month

Section 103.2 Service Charge: A service charge of sixty cents ($60) net per month shall be added to the above rate for Small Power service.

Section 103.3 Minimum Bill: No monthly bill shall be rendered for less than fifty cents ($50) net per month per horse-power of connected load or measured demand, plus sixty cents ($60) service charge.

Section 103.4 Adjustments: A small power customer, upon becoming eligible therefor, may application for power under Section 104. Industrial Rate (High Voltage Power). Billing under Section 104 will be made effective from reading date of month following date of application for service. No adjustment will be made to change bills rendered at small power rates to industrial rates.

Section 104 Industrial Rate shall apply to any customer desiring power and incidental lighting service for industrial use who has a demand of 50 K. W. H. or more, or a guaranteed average consumption of more than 5000 K. W. H. per month for the year. The nature of the service is 24 hours alternating current, 60 cycle, three-phase, 220 or 440 volts and is metered on the primary voltage wires.

Section 104.1 Industrial Rate (High Voltage Power):

Energy Charge: $0.15 net per KWH for the first 50,000 KWH used per customer per month

$0.125 net per KWH for the next 150,000 KWH used per customer per month

$0.10 net per KWH for all over 250,000 KWH used per customer per month

Plus Demand Charge of:

$2.00 net per KW for the first 100 KW used per customer per month

$1.75 net per KW for the next 150 KW used per customer per month

$1.10 net per KW for all over 250 KW used per customer per month

Monthly maximum KW demand measured over an interval of fifteen minutes.

Section 104.2 Adjustments to demand charges for industrial use will be made upon request from the consumer if the nature of his load is such that his greatest demand is at times when the over all demand of the City's distribution system is relatively low. To establish that the customer's load is of such nature, the City will install suitable instruments to measure such demands and off-peak demands separately, and the cost of this installation will be borne by the consumer. The City will determine the off-peak loads and reserves the right to change the peak periods upon notification to the customer. Adjustments will be made as follows:

(a) If the demand recorded by the on-peak meter is ten or more KW less than the recording on the off-peak meter, the demand for billing purposes shall be one-half of the sum of the off-peak and on-peak recordings.

(b) If the on-peak demand meter shows a recording which is not ten or more KW less than the recording on the off-peak meter, the demand for billing purposes shall be the higher of the two recordings.

Section 106. Adjustments in energy rates may be made should there be any change in the cost of electric energy to the City. The amount of such change will be determined by the City Council.

Section 106.1 Special Rate: A special rate shall apply for all use by the Escanaba Public Schools and the City of Escanaba, as follows:

$0.15 net per KWH, plus $60 per meter per month.

CHAPTER II. TEMPORARY SERVICE

Temporary Service will be supplied to a customer upon written application therefor. A minimum connection charge of $25.00 per customer shall be made for a temporary service charge KW or less of inflated capacity with an additional charge of one dollar per KW or less than $12.00 per KW for each additional KW of inflated capacity. Connection charges shall be paid at time customer makes application therefor.

CHAPTER III. MULTIPLE USE

In the event that a single customer uses energy for more than one of the above uses with a different rate for each, the higher rate will be charged unless the wiring is separated for two meters to the satisfaction of the City.

CHAPTER IV. PENALTY

A five percent (5%) penalty charge will be made on all bills unpaid after date indicated on bill, provided that the penalty charged shall not exceed five dollars ($5.00) if paid within thirty (30) days after due date.

CHAPTER V. LIABILITY

In case the supply of electricity shall be interrupted or fail by reason of accident or causes beyond the control of the City, the City shall not be liable for damages by reason of such failure.

CHAPTER VI. SAVING CLAUSE

If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses and phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER VII. EFFECTIVE DATE

In compliance with Section 4 of Chapter XVI of the City Charter, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect for billings for electric energy used by consumers in the month of July, 1955, and for which bills shall be rendered in the month of August, 1955, and after the passage of this ordinance and its publication.

CHAPTER VIII. ADJUSTMENT

Section 101.1 Residential Water Rates (Monthly):

$3.30 net per M. gallons for the first 10,000 gallons

$2.7 net per M. gallons for the next 40,000 gallons

$2.1 net per M. gallons for the next 100,000 gallons

$1.1 net per M. gallons for all over 15

Weapons Chief Fired In Canada For War Speech

OTTAWA (P)—Canada's air weapons chief has been relieved of his job for what the government considers "highly inappropriate" statements. He said another world war appeared inevitable and the West could "beat the pants off" the Russians.

The remarks were made by Air Vice Marshal J. L. Plant, chief of the Royal Canadian Air Force Technical Services, in a speech last Thursday to a meeting of the Aviation Writers Assn. in Toronto.

Defense Minister Ralph Campney told Parliament Monday that Plant has been removed from his job and named head of the RCAF Air Materiel Command. The minister said this would remove him from any association with policy matters.

Campney and Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent also announced that steps have been taken to prevent armed service officers from making similar public statements.

In his remarks to the aviation writers, the air vice marshal referred to the recent controversy over Soviet aviation advances as "a hell of a panic about all the things that go on behind the Iron Curtain."

"Without weapons of mass destruction," he said, "we could lick them hands down—and why we should be scared I'm damned if I could see. We do have weapons of mass destruction, and we're going to plant them on them the minute they kick over the traces."

"If we fight the Russians we will beat the pants off them or anyone else who wants to take us on."

News in Stamps

History is often related through stamps. Below are four new stamps marking events which will someday find their way into the world's history books.

HAILE TREATY — This special Austrian stamp commemorates the recent signing of the treaty ending occupation of Austria. The two-schilling stamp bears the 1945 coat-of-arms series with an overprint of "Staatsvertrag (State Treaty 1955)". Stamp is bluish-gray.

FARM PLAN — This stamp is one of a new series of Indian stamps which illustrate efforts to build a new India. The 3-pies stamp above shows an American-made Caterpillar D4 tractor pulling a plow. It highlights the government's Five-Year plan in agriculture.

PROGRESS — France is issuing this stamp to symbolize progress of the nation's electrically powered railroads. Dark brown and gray-blue, the 12-franc stamp will be released June 4.

TEXTILE STAMP — This stamp has been issued by Belgium in connection with the Second International Textile Exposition in Brussels, June 25 to July 10. Stamp is white on a light-brown background.

World Briefs

VIENNA (P)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru left Prague Tuesday for Moscow, the Prague radio announced. The Indian leader will stay in Moscow 14 days and then will visit Warsaw, Vienna and Belgrade.

PEACE IN THE ANIMAL WORLD—"Bitzy," the fox terrier, takes over baby sitting to give "Miss Fancy," the cat, a rest. And Bitzy doesn't seem to mind one bit having a few kittens crawl all over her.

Harley L. Clarke Dies In Chicago

CHICAGO (P)—Harley L. Clarke, 73, former president of the 400 million dollar Utilities Power and Light Corporation, from which he resigned in 1936, and also once prominent in motion picture and real estate enterprises, died Friday, it was disclosed Monday.

The onetime utilities magnate had a spectacular career in finance and his Utilities Power and Light held direct control of 50 subsidiary companies. The firm which he founded before World War I spread into more than 500 cities in the British Isles, four Canadian provinces and the United States.

In 1930, with a group of associates Clarke gained control of the Fox film properties, but in 1932 they went into receiver ship. Clarke's retirement from presidency of his utilities corporation occurred at the behest of Atlas Corporation, New York investment trust, which prior to 1936, had gained a dominant position in the company's control through purchase of certain securities. Floyd B. Odum was head of the Atlas corporation.

After much litigation in federal court, a trustee was named for the company in 1938 and Judge William Holly approved a settlement in favor of the Atlas corporation and Odum.

Clarke, whose personal fortune was once estimated at 60 million dollars, in 1937 had retired as chairman of the board of the Indianapolis Power and Light company, an important subsidiary.
